

THE HUMANITARIAN LEADER: A WORKING PAPER SERIES

Submission Guidelines

Background and purpose

The Humanitarian Leader combines academic perspectives and practical experience to promote debate and discussion about key issues for humanitarian leaders, their organisations and the wider humanitarian system.

This working paper series was launched in August 2019 to provide an opportunity for non-peer reviewed research to be shared to prompt discussion and dialogue.

Publishing in this working paper series will not prevent later publication in a journal and all rights remain with the author/s.

Submission guidelines

- The preferred word count is 5000 words
- Referencing must be in Harvard format: see further information here
- Include a 150 word abstract
- All spelling, language etc is as polished as possible
- In MS Word format

Publication details

The author/s retain ownership of the intellectual property in their Working Paper and grant to The Centre for Humanitarian Leadership the right to publish the Working Paper on our website. the author/s warrant to the Centre for Humanitarian Leadership that their Working Paper does not infringe any third party's intellectual property rights, nor does it contain any defamatory material.

Submissions are now open. Please direct inquiries or send your completed paper to research@cfhl.org.au